

2024/25

Executive function helps students plan, focus attention, remember instructions, manage tasks, and regulate their behavior to achieve goals. These skills are essential for managing time, solving problems, and adapting to new situations. When students struggle with executive function, their learning and classroom engagement can be affected. However, there are tools and strategies we can teach to our whole class to support these skills, which in turn fosters a positive classroom environment.

The purpose of this working group is to provide a collaborative space where educators and leaders

Thursday,
January 16
3:30-4:30pm

How Executive Function Can Improve Observation

In this session, we will explore how we tend to observe, and the benefit of slowing down and tuning in to student performance with an EF lens. We will learn more about how to